the undead are very much alive in contemporary entertainment and lore indeed vampires and zombies have garnered attention in print media cinema and on television the vampire with roots in medieval european folklore and the zombie with origins in afro caribbean mythology have both undergone significant transformations in global culture proliferating as deviant representatives of the zeitgeist as this volume demonstrates distribution of vampires and zombies across time and space has revealed these undead figures to carry multiple meanings of all monsters vampires and zombies seem to be the trendiest the most regularly incarnate of the undead and the monsters most frequently represented in the media and pop culture moreover both figures have experienced radical reinterpretations if in the past vampires were evil blood sucking exploiters and zombies were brainless victims they now have metamorphosed into kinder and gentler blood sucking vampires and crueller more relentless flesh eating zombies although the portrayals of both vampires and zombies can be traced back to specific regions and predate mass media the introduction of mass distribution through film and game technologies has significantly modified their depiction over time and in new environments among other topics contributors discuss zombies in thai films vampire novels of mexico and undead avatars in horror videogames this volume with scholars from different national and cultural backgrounds explores the transformations that the vampire and zombie figures undergo when they travel globally and through various media and cultures spencer d segalla examines natural and anthropogenic disasters during the years of decolonization in algeria morocco and france and explores how environmental catastrophes impacted the dissolution of france's empire in north africa people are leading significantly longer lives than previous generations did and the proportion of older people in the population is growing residential care for older people will become increasingly necessary as our society ages and we will require more of it at this moment in time the rights of older people receive attention at international and regional levels with the united nations the organization of american states and the african union exploring the possibility of establishing new conventions for the rights of older persons this book explores the rights of older people and their quality of care once they are living in a care home and considers how we can commence the journey towards a human rights framework to ensure decent and dignified care for older people the book takes a comparative approach to present and future challenges facing the care home sector for older people in africa kenya the arab world egypt australia china england israel japan and the usa an international panel of experts have contributed chapters identifying how their particular society cares for its older and oldest people the extent to which demographic and economic change has placed their system under pressure and the role that residential elder care homes play in their culture the book also explores the extent to which constitutional or other rights form a foundation to the regulatory and legislative structures to residential elder care and it examines the important concept of dignity as a multi regional study of the care of older person from a human rights perspective this book will be of excellent use and interest in particular to students and researchers of family and welfare law long term care social policy social work human rights and elder law digital transformation and demographic change are profoundly affecting the contexts in which the language industry operates the resources it deploys and the roles and skillsets of those it employs driven by evolving digital resources and socio ethical demands the roles and responsibilities deriving from the proliferation of new and emerging profiles in the language industry are transcending the traditional bounds of core activities and competences associated with prototypical concepts of translation and interpreting this volume focuses on the realities in the language industry from the fresh perspective of current and emerging professional profiles and of the contexts and resources that condition and support them it traces the industry s evolution maps its current state and considers key aspects of its workplaces actors and practices in an age when artificial intelligence is challenging traditionally held views of human performance it addresses the issue of where and how human agents add value to the industry s processes and products with a detailed research based consideration of the activities competences roles responsibilities and tools that characterize the language industry of today and the near future focusing on the middle east and north africa mena region this book discusses the complexities of rebuilding cities amid wars and conflicts highlighting the importance of harnessing global knowledge it explores innovative approaches to urban planning emphasizing the transformative power of creative destruction in shaping intelligent diverse cities through the lens of mission oriented innovation policies it advocates for sectoral collaboration to tackle grand challenges such as sustainable development goals and climate change it delves into the systemic nature of mission oriented policies drawing on science and innovation to
