with this volume professor bayefsky makes the international complaints procedure arising from the un human rights treaty system available to individuals lawyers non governmental organizations and human right advocates in many parts of the world she begins by indentifying the common features of the four complaints procedures under each of the four treaties each treaty is then examined in greater detail consideration is finally given to questions of overlap and the choise of a forum the annexes provide the practical tools for filling a complaint

3 4 ad hoc reports

in 1946 the united nations commission on human rights became the first international body empowered to promote global human rights during its first twenty years the commission established most of the contemporary standards of human rights increased social awareness in the 1960s enabled the commission to respond to specific complaints from individuals and nongovernmental organizations and to pressure offending governments by using various measures that ranged from exhortation and mediation to sanctions designed to isolate violators these enforcement activities have increased the commission s visibility and have dramatically transformed its operation dr toley s thematic history of the commission offers important insights into states political conduct in international human rights organizations the evolving legal and institutional means of preventing human rights violations and the difficulties encountered when an intergovernmental body is pressed to provide impartial protection to citizens against abuse by their own government since the third edition of this commentary on the charter of the united nations was published in 2012 the text of the charter has not changed dl but the world has central pillars of the international order enshrined in the un charter are facing serious challenges notably the prohibition of the use of force human rights too have come under increasing pressure now also from contemporary information technology global warming poses fundamental challenges for the world community as a whole in its effort to stabilize global ecosystems fully updated the commentary takes up these and other developments it features new chapters on climate change and the human rights council the commentary remains the authoritative article by article account of the legislative history interpretation and practical application of each and every charter provision written by a team of distinguished scholars and practitioners this book combines academic research with the insights of practice it is an indispensable tool of reference for all those interested in the united nations and its legal significance for the world community the commentary will be crucial in combining solid legal foundations with new directions for the development of international law and the united nations in the twenty first century non governmental organisations ngos have become important although sometimes overlooked actors in international human rights law although ngos are not generally provided for in the hard law of treaties they use the un human rights system to hold governments to account a key way in which they do so is using state reporting mechanisms initially the un treaty bodies but more recently supplemented by the human rights council s universal periodic review in doing so ngos provide information and contribute to developing recommendations ngos also lobby for new treaties contribute to the drafting of these treaties and bring individual s complaints to the un human rights bodies this book charts the historical development of the ngo role in the un it examines the un regulation of ngos but the largely informal nature of the role and an exploration of the various types of ngos including some less benign actors such as gongos governmental ngos it also draws on empirical data to illustrate ngo influence on un human rights bodies and gives voice to stakeholders both inside and outside the un the book concludes that the current un human rights system is heavily reliant on ngos and that they play an essential fact finding role and contribute to global democratisation and governance this second edition of the united nations convention against torture a commentary provides an updated analysis of all substantive organizational and procedural provisions of the convention and its optional protocol ensuring that the volume continues to serve as a comprehensive guide for researchers and practitioners alike the very concept of human rights implies governmental accountability to ensure that governments are indeed held accountable for their treatment of citizens and others the united nations has established a wide range of mechanisms to monitor compliance and to seek to prevent as well as respond to violations the panoply of implementation measures that the un has taken since 1945 has resulted in a diverse and complex set of institutional arrangements the effectiveness of which varies widely indeed there is much doubt as to the effectiveness of much of the un s human rights efforts but also about what direction it should take inevitable instances of politicization and the hostile or at best ambivalent attitude of most governments has at times endangered the fragile progress made on the more technical fronts at the same time technical efforts cannot dispense with the complex politics of actualizing the promise of human rights at and through the un in addition to significant actual and potential problems of duplication overlapping and inconsistent approaches there are major problems of under funding and insufficient expertise the complexity of these arrangements and the difficulty in evaluating their impact makes a comprehensive guide of the type provided here all the more indispensable these essays critically examine the functions procedures and performance of each of the major un organs dealing with human rights including the security council and the international court of justice as well as the more specialized bodies monitoring the implementation of human rights treaties significant attention is devoted to the considerable efforts at reforming the un s human rights machinery as illustrated most notably by the creation of the human rights council to replace the commission on human rights the book also looks at the relationship between the various bodies and the potential for major reforms and restructuring the book concerns the study and analysis of the un committee on economic social and cultural rights from an international legal perspective taking into consideration the adoption of the 2008 optional protocol to the international covenant on economic social and cultural rights icescr the volume provides a detailed account of the structure and functioning of the committee on economic social and cultural rights in the light of its jurisprudence through a study of the committee s procedures and practices periodic reports and general comments including taking into account the optional protocol for individual complaint procedure the book considers the possible implications of the work of this committee on other un committees such as the human rights committee and the un committee on the rights of the child as well as considering the repercussions of its work on the international protection of fundamental rights such as the right to education to health and adequate food the un committee on economic social and cultural rights will be of particular interest to academics and students of international and human rights law in contemporary international relations the united nations high commissioner for human rights is a central actor promoting human rights laws and institutions within countries speaking out against gross violations of human rights integrating human rights into efforts for conflict prevention peacemaking peacekeeping peacebuilding development and humanitarian affairs the author exercised the functions of un high commissioner for human rights in a turbulent period involving the conflict in iraq the conflict in cote d ivoire and the crisis in darfur sudan in this unique work he tells the story of the role of the high commissioner in leadership and advocacy crisis response diplomatic initiatives mainstreaming human rights and strengthening the office of high commissioner the texts of the principal reports referred to the essays contained in part one are reproduced in part two offering the reader important insights into the reasoning the methods and the techniques used in the work of the high commissioner this is the first book ever written by a serving high commissioner in the history of the institution it is obligatory reading for all students and practitioners of human rights the six main united nations human rights treaties enjoy almost universal ratification today almost 80 per cent of the possible ratifications have been made and every member state of the un has ratified at least one of these treaties the nearly universal acceptance of the treaties on the formal level however does not automatically translate into the norms contained in these documents being made a reality in the lives of the billions of people living in these countries the treaty system is notoriously weak in terms of international enforcement and there is a general suspicion that it has had little impact at the domestic level mechanisms to improve the international enforcement mechanisms of the six main treaties have been a topic of discussion and research for many years but the domestic impact of the treaties has never been investigated in a systematic and comprehensive manner this book constitutes the most ambitious attempt so far to establish the impact of the treaties at the domestic level the following treaties in 20 united nations member states are investigated the convention on the elimination of all forms of racial discrimination the covenant on economic social and cultural rights the covenant on civil and political rights the convention on the elimination of all forms of discrimination against women the convention against torture and the convention on the rights of the child this book reflects the findings of 20 researchers based in the countries investigated under the leadership of professors christof heyns and frans viljoen of the centre for human rights university of pretoria in a study done in co operation with the united nations high commissioner for human rights the influence of the treaties in each of the 20 countries is investigated in respect of its influence on the continuation legislation court cases policies and practices and the impact of the treaty system in civil society in an overview chapter by the study leaders based on a comparison of the available data common trends and patterns are identified and recommendations about reforms on the national and international level are made this is a book that should be read by all those interested in the development of the international human rights system
