political consultants and campaigns one day to sell examines the differences between how political science theory suggests campaigns should be run and how political consultants actually run campaigns in the wake of consultants who effortlessly move from campaigners to policymakers the dearth of knowledge about the attitudes beliefs and strategies of the consultants themselves is still a glaring absence in the analysis of american politics how can we purport to know what is happening in american political campaigns if we don't know what is on the minds of the men and women who run them this book provides a clearer understanding of modern day political campaigns by revealing what is on the minds of the people who run them with original data from consultants campaign managers and professional campaign schools author jason johnson examines consultant behavior on message formation policy positioning candidate recruitment internet strategy and negative advertising and compares these practices to existing political science theory this groundbreaking research makes political consultants and campaigns one day to sell a must have resource for all students of american politics campaign managers or anyone interested in how political campaigns in america are run the psychotherapist's own psychotherapy patient and clinician perspectives lifts a curtain that has long shrouded the intimate alliances between therapists and those of their patients who share the same profession in this unique volume distinguished contributors explore the multi faceted nature of the psychotherapy of psychotherapists from both sides of the couch the first person narratives clinical wisdom and research findings gathered together in this book offer guidance about providing effective treatments to therapist patients part i presents multiple theoretical positions that justify and guide the work of therapists therapists in part ii eminent therapists write eloquently and intimately about their own experiences as patients their personal reflections offer valuable insights about what is healing and educational about psychotherapy these narratives are followed by several chapters reviewing scientific research on therapists in personal therapy including the first report of relevant findings from a major international survey of psychotherapists in part iii celebrated therapists from different theoretical orientations offer guidance on conducting therapy with fellow therapists they reflect on the many challenges dilemmas and rewards that arise when two people do the same work their chapters offer wisdom and warnings about such issues as power dynamics boundary maintenance therapist self disclosure the termination process and the post termination phase of the relationship these first hand accounts are enhanced by research overviews on conducting personal treatment including a new study of american therapists commissioned for the book the psychotherapist s own psychotherapy patient and clinician perspectives is an essential resource for practitioners and students of all orientations and disciplines a choice highly recommended title january 2017 this book is an interpretive analysis of political campaigns in america instead of focusing on how campaigns are designed and run it investigates the role campaigns play in our american politics and the close symbiosis between campaigns and those politics the text examines how campaigns are an important manifestation of how we do politics in this country hallmarks of this text include showing how campaigns can undermine our democracy and asking how democratic they are and by extension our politics really are demonstrating that the ability of the media to accurately fairly and deeply report on campaigns has been severely compromised both because of the growing distance between campaigns and media outlets and because of the structure of big media corporate ownership and its tight relationship to big money it asks important questions about the media including how do the media reporters in particular cover campaigns what pressures and forces shape what and how they present campaigns what is the impact of the ever increasing chasm separating campaigns and the media how does the close tie between corporate mainstream media and super pac money affect campaign coverage how does the ability of campaigns and media to segment voters into ever smaller slices influence how campaigns are covered tracking the continuing growth of unregulated private unaccountable dark money in campaigns as a threat to our democratic elections and politics democracy rests fundamentally on transparency and accountability sunlight and our campaign laws and norms now allow and encourage exactly the opposite largely because of decisions by the united states supreme court
