regional transformation has emerged as a major topic of research during the past few decades much of it seeking to understand how a region changes into a zone of conflict or cooperation and how and why some regions remain in perpetual conflict although the leading theoretical paradigms of international relations have something to say about regional order a comprehensive treatment of this subject is missing from the literature this book suggests that cross paradigmatic engagement on regional orders can be valuable if it can generate theoretically innovative testable propositions and policy relevant ideas the book brings together scholars from the dominant ir perspectives aiming to explain the regional order issue through multidimensional and multi causal pathways and seeking meeting points between them using insights from ir theory the contributors offer policy relevant ideas which may benefit conflict ridden regions of the world this book explores the normative foundations of asean and the eu it revives the history of the two organizations in an in depth narrative of the protracted arguments surrounding their establishment legal integration and enlargement while political actors used norms to legitimize their ideas for institutional change the complex and dynamic nature of these norms also provided the breeding ground for contestation and sometimes institutional sclerosis and failure recasting these processes in an innovative english school framework the volume makes a crucial contribution to the literature of comparative regionalism that goes beyond eurocentric perspectives east asia until recently the scene of widespread blood letting has achieved relative peace a region that at the height of the cold war had accounted for around eighty percent of the world s mass atrocities has experienced such a decline in violence that by 2015 it accounted for less than five percent this book explains east asia's other miracle and asks whether it is merely a temporary blip in the historical cycle or the dawning of a new and more peaceful era for the region. It argues that the decline of mass atrocities in east asia resulted from four interconnected factors: the consolidation of states and emergence of responsible sovereigns; the prioritization of economic development through trade; the development of norms and habits of multilateralism and transformations in the practice of power politics. Particular attention is paid to north korea and myanmar, countries whose experience has bucked regional trends largely because these states have not succeeded in consolidating themselves to the point where they no longer depend on violence to survive. Although the region faces several significant future challenges, this book argues that the much-reduced incidence of mass atrocities in east asia is likely to be sustained into the foreseeable future.

Written by a group of well-known experts and researchers who have diligently worked and updated the book since its first edition, it includes the most important features of state polity and governance in middle east and north africa. This book is equally useful for instructors and students. Jalil Roshandel, East Carolina University, in the more succinct fifteenth edition of the middle east, editor Ellen Lust, brings important new coverage to this comprehensive, balanced, and superbly researched text. In clear prose, Lust and her contributors explain the many complex changes taking place across the region. All country profile chapters now address domestic and regional conflict more explicitly, and all tables, figures, boxes, and maps have been fully updated with the most recent data and information.

This best-selling text not only helps readers comprehend more fully the world around them, but it also enables readers to recognize and formulate policies that can more successfully engage the middle east. Give your students the sage edge. Sage Edge offers a robust online environment featuring an impressive array of free tools and resources for review, study, and further exploration, keeping both instructors and students on the cutting edge of teaching and learning.

East Asia is normally identified as a group of countries lying along the western edge of the Pacific Ocean. But in recent years, scholars have begun thinking about a new East Asia that is a community rather than a set of sovereign states. This regional community is a theoretical notion variously defined on the basis of economic or political relations, philosophical orientations, language, or other criteria with each standard producing a different set of boundaries this book looks at the new east asia from a northeast asian perspective considering it both as a theoretical construct and a practical reality the authors are asian studies specialists mainly from japan but with contributions from korea and the united states and they consider the trade and economic interaction diplomacy and security arrangements of east asia prepared as part of a five year research program conducted by waseda university's 21st century center of excellence for the creation of contemporary asian studies the essays are published here in english for the first time this book mainly introduces the concepts and approaches of global governance from the viewpoints of chinese and russian scholars and is divided into four parts the first one deals with the concept of a new type of global governance namely globalization 2.0 the second one is dedicated to institutions and multilateralism including the importance and effectiveness of international institutions the third part focuses on the important countries and regions in the new era as well as such issues as the current global status quo processes in eurasia the prospects of the u.s.china.russia trilateral relationship the last part analyzes the future development of global governance and possible solutions of how it might be improved climate change digital era cyber security financial and economic regimes covid 19 are all involved in this part in short this book is a profound and cutting edge research on global governance the mainly related topics of this book are political election the pre requirements for the candidates of election political party management discipline management policy portfolio global governance global governance structure the development of the country form of the united nations the relationships between the united nations and other international entities management main body law judgment legislation basic human rights and the constitution law bentham theory news media standardized business valuation framework city planning and so on in this serial book the innovative concepts i proposed include the development of the country form of the united nations beizhan global governance thought beizhan global governance structure the united nations migration management agency military migration administration department the global migration wish expression system the un migration management tax system wto merged with the united nations wto based un global tariff management system unified constituency administration center international country management policy portfolio system revised bentham theory country management main body and self management main body and so on such concepts are very meaningful for managing our world more efficiently and changing our world more scientifically since the third edition of this commentary on the charter of the united nations was published in 2012 the text of the charter has not changed dl but the world has central pillars of the international order enshrined in the un charter are facing serious challenges notably the prohibition of the use of force human rights too have come under increasing pressure now also from contemporary information technology global warming poses fundamental challenges for the world community as a whole in its effort to stabilize global ecosystems fully updated the commentary takes up these and other developments it features new chapters on climate change and the human rights council the commentary remains the authoritative article by article account of the legislative history interpretation and practical application of each and every charter provision written by a team of distinguished scholars and practitioners this book combines academic research with the insights of practice it is an indispensable tool of reference for all those interested in the united nations and its legal significance for the world community the commentary will be crucial in combining solid legal foundations with new directions for the development of international law and the united nations in the twenty first century bringing together interconnected discussions to make explicit the complexity of the arctic region this book offers a legal discussion of the ongoing territorial disputes and challenges in order to frame their impact into the viability of different governance strategies that are available at the national regional and international level one of the intrinsic features of the region is the difficulty in the determination of boundaries responsibilities and interests against this background sovereignty issues are intertwined with environmental and geopolitical issues that ultimately affect global strategic balances and international trade and at the same time influence national approaches to basic rights and organizational schemes regarding the protection of indigenous peoples and inhabitants of the region this perspective lays the ground for further discussion revolving around the main clusters of governance focusing on the arctic council and the european union with the particular roles and interest of arctic and non arctic states and the impact on indigenous populations environment including the relevance of national regulatory schemes and the intertwinement with concerns related to energy or migration strategy concentrating in geopolitical realities and challenges analysed from different perspectives and focusing on different actors and covering security and climate change related challenges this collection provides an avenue for parallel and converging research of complex realities from different disciplines through the expertise of scholars from different latitudes stemming from an international and multidisciplinary network of leading specialists this best selling text is fully updated with new chapter additions with the first edition prepared at the end of the last century and the second edition adding inter regional relations this new edition focuses on competing models of regional cooperation within a multipolar world and the role of european union this new edition offers a comparative analysis of regional cooperation and of both us centred and eu centred interregionalism a fresh exploration of key issues of regionalism versus globalization and the potential for world economic and political governance through regional cooperation notably in hard times a vigorous response to conventional wisdom on the controversial eu international identity an appendix on regional and interregional organizations a key resource for postgraduate or undergraduate study and research of international relations european integration studies comparative politics and international political economy taking into account both the expanded european union and regional institutional activities have remarkably transformed east asia a region once known for the absence of regionalism and regime building efforts yet the dynamics of this asian institutionalization have remained an understudied area of research this book offers one of the first scholarly attempts to clarify what constitutes institutionalization in east asia and to systematically trace the origins discern the features and analyze the prospects of ongoing institutionalization processes in the world's most dynamic region institutionalizing east asia comprises eight essays grouped thematically into three sections part i considers east and southeast asia as focal points of inter state exchanges and traces the institutionalization of inter state cooperation first among the southeast asian states and then among those of the wider east asia part ii examines the institutionalization of regional collaboration in four domains economy security natural disaster relief and ethnic conflict management part iii discusses the institutionalization dynamics at the sub regional and inter regional levels the essays in this book offer a useful source of reference for scholars and researchers specializing in east asia regional architecture and institution building in international relations they will also be of interest to postgraduate and research students interested in asean the drivers and limits of international cooperation as well as the role of regional multilateralism in the asia pacific region this book aims to examine the conceptions and practices of security adopted by regional organisations ros across the globe since the end of the cold war there has been an increased focus on regions as a relevant realm for security with actors within regional contexts identifying a significant degree of interdependency between one another as a consequence international security has taken on a distinct regionally institutionalised character as seen by the increase in calls for greater utilisation of chapter viii regional arrangements of the un in order to create a devolved un led system of global security management however the idea of a system of global security management is a remote prospect because divergence seems to be as important as commonality in terms of regional security in light of the above regional organisations and security analyses the primary ros that are active in africa asia eurasia the middle east and south america the findings of individual case studies are compiled to highlight disparities and similarities in how security is seen prioritised understood practised managed and implemented across regions on this basis the authors reach conclusions about whether we live in an increasingly globalised or regionally distinct world and go on to assess the prospects for a globalised system of security management and consider how this might be developed and organised this book will be of interest to students of comparative regionalism international organisations international security and ir kapor argues that explanations of international relations in asia in the post second world war period have relied too much on the cold war as a key explanatory factor and have not given enough emphasis to the useful concepts of regional power formation conflict formation and conflict resolution the author outlines these concepts and goes on to elaborate on them and to apply them to three key asian regions northeast southeast and south asia discussing practical strategic issues in an historical perspective and arguing that these concepts and other concepts which he discusses are extremely helpful in making sense of the complex pattern of international relations in asia
