challenging existing political analyses of the state of emergency in turkey this volume argues that such states are not merely predetermined by policy and legislation but are produced regulated distributed and contested through the built environment in both embodied and symbolic ways contributors use empirical critical spatial research carried out in turkey over the past decade exploring heritage displacement and catastrophes contributing to the broader literature on the related concepts of exception risk crisis and uncertainty the book discusses the ways in which these phenomena shape and are shaped by the built environment and provides context specific empirical substance to it by focusing on contemporary turkey in so doing it offers nuanced insight into the debate around emergency as well as into recent urban architectural affairs in turkey dangerous gifts is a book about the strategic economic legal and religious undertones of great power interventions and violence in the levant this edited collection introduces conceptual innovations that critically engage with understanding refugee movements as part of the broader category of poor people's movements the empirical focus of the work lies on the protest events related to the so called long summer of migration of 2015 it traces the route followed by the migrants from the places of first arrival to the places of passage and on to the places of destination through qualitative and quantitative data the authors map within a cross national comparative perspective the wide set of actions and initiatives that are being created in solidarity with refugees who have made their journey seeking asylum to the european union either travelling across the mediterranean sea or through south eastern europe it explores these cases from the perspective of social movement studies alongside critical studies on migration and citizenship for the non muslim mecca is the most forbidden of holy cities and yet in many ways it is the best known muslim historians and geographers have studied it and countless pilgrims and travelers many of them european christians in disguise have left behind lively and well publicized accounts of life in mecca and its associated shrine city of medina where the prophet lies buried the stories of all these figures holy men and heathens alike come together in this book to offer a remarkably revealing literary portrait of the city's traditions and urban life and of the surrounding area closely following the publication of The Hajj by Peter S. the Hajj Princeton 1994 which describes the perilous pilgrimage itself from the travelers' perspectives this collection of writings and commentary completes the historical travelogue the accounts begin with the Muslims themselves in the patriarchal age of Abraham and Ishmael and trace the sometimes glorious and sometimes sad history of Islam's central shrine down to the last Grand Sharif of Mecca Husayn ibn Ali whose fragile kingdom was overtaken by the House of Saud in 1926 because of chronic flooding and constant rebuilding there is little or no material evidence for the early history of Islam's holy cities by assembling analyzing and fashioning these literary accounts of Mecca however Peters supplies us with a vivid sense of place and human interaction much as he did in his widely acclaimed Jerusalem Princeton 1985 originally published in 1994 the Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press these editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions the goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 the fading of the post WWII order called for Turkey to take on a new role in this new multi-centred and multipolar era with new players emerging from different regions the new enterprising and humanitarian foreign policy is an effort to locate Turkey better in the 21st global politics while the literature on principles of Turkish foreign policy is abundant the actual mechanisms by which these principles are implemented in practice are still ambiguous to most scholars and foreign policy practitioners especially within the country's newly developed Turkish foreign policy framework this edited volume therefore aims to shed light on this little explored aspect of Turkish foreign policy by critically analyzing several cases from different geographical locations this volume explains why turkey developed a new foreign policy framework and by which mechanisms this new foreign policy framework has been implemented around the world this volume also critically explores how the new turkish foreign policy framework customizes its tools and capacities in different geographical regions around the world
