recent analyses reveal that the vast majority of jihadists come from or have some connections with specific areas or districts within different states they can be labelled as local regional hotbeds of extremism molenbeek in belgium gornje maoče and ošve in bosnia herzegovina minneapolis in the us kasserine and ben guerdane in tunisia sirte and derna in libya sinai in egypt pankisi valley and dagestan in the caucasus each area has unique characteristics that lead to exporting fighters or creating new is controlled zones starting from the debate on the origin and nature of jihadist militancy that is dividing the most important scholars of islam this report outlines a broad spectrum of radicalization factors leading to the emergence of jihadists hotbeds such as poverty syria s bloody civil war has plunged the cradle of the levant into a painful spiral of violence this spiral of violence has caused profound social political economic and strategic changes in syria but the effects of the civil war are not limited to syria the civil war in syria has become a direct problem not only for syria but also for türkiye iraq lebanon and jordan however most observers agree that of all syria s neighbors türkiye has been the most affected by the civil war when one thinks of türkiye and syria together in recent years two concepts come to mind most often military operations and migration however conflicts in syria have been perceived in a broader security paradigm in türkiye the main topics of the book can be summarized as follows border issues sovereignty disputes alliances and military interventions in türkiye syria relations the effects of the civil war in syria on türkiye s foreign policy economy social structure and internal security reflections of the civil war on türkiye s relations with iran the us and russia increasing separatist and radical salafist terrorism in türkiye in line with the spillover effect of civil wars cross border operations and türkiye s military capacity the problem of migration within the framework of the topics addressed the book provides a comprehensive reading of the security problems caused by the syrian civil war on türkiye we believe that this book will shed light on why türkiye perceives what is happening in syria from a security perspective in fact the main idea of the book is simple syria has been a security issue for türkiye since the 1930s and it is still a security issue now after approximately 100 years the main idea has not changed the only thing that has changed is how security is defined what makes people fight and risk their lives for countries other than their own why did diverse individuals such as lord byron george orwell che guevara and osama bin laden all volunteer for ostensibly foreign causes nir arielli helps us understand this perplexing phenomenon with a wide ranging history of foreign war volunteers from the wars of the french revolution to the civil war in syria challenging narrow contemporary interpretations of foreign fighters as a security problem arielli opens up a broad range of questions about individuals motivations and their political and social context exploring such matters as ideology gender international law military significance and the memory of war he shows that even though volunteers have fought for very different causes they share a number of characteristics often driven by a personal search for meaning they tend to superimpose their own beliefs and perceptions on the wars they join they also serve to internationalize conflicts not just by being present at the front but by making wars abroad matter back at home arielli suggests an innovative way of distinguishing among different types of foreign volunteers examines the mixed reputation they acquire and provides the first in depth comparative analysis of the military roles that foreigners have played in several conflicts merging social cultural military and diplomatic history from byron to bin laden is the most comprehensive account yet of a vital enduring but rarely explored feature of warfare past and present turkey and russia are two of the most significant powerhouses in eurasia the foreign policies of two countries directly
