hans baldung grien the most famous apprentice and close friend of german artist albrecht dürer was known for his unique and highly eroticised images of witches in paintings and woodcut prints he gave powerful visual expression to late medieval tropes and stereotypes such as the poison maiden venomous virgin the fall of man death and the maiden and other motifs and eschatological themes which mingled abject and erotic qualities in the female body yvonne owens reads these images against the humanist intellectual milieu of renaissance germany showing how classical and medieval medicine and natural philosophy interpreted female anatomy as toxic defective and dangerously beguiling

she reveals how hans baldung exploited this radical polarity to create moralising and titillating portrayals of how monstrous female sexuality victimised men and brought them low furthermore these images issued from and contributed to the contemporary understanding of witchcraft as a heresy that stemmed from natural feminine defect a concept derived from aristotle offering new and provocative interpretations of hans baldung s iconic witchcraft imagery this book is essential reading for historians of art culture and gender relations in the late medieval and early modern periods
